COURSE DESCRIPTION
An introductory survey to the thought surrounding the notation of early music. Topics include plainchant notation and its scholarship, modal notation, and mensural notation. Class activities include reading, writing, discussion, and transcription of facsimiles.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
Students will gain
• Experience and proficiency in transcribing, reading, and understanding the notation of the music of the Middle ages and Renaissance
• An understanding of the theoretical and performance implications of notational practices
• An understanding of the relationship among theory, notational practices, musical style, and musical thought.

ASSIGNMENTS AND EVALUATION: Expect daily assignments; these will be the basis for class discussion about problems and techniques for representing the music. It is essential that they be completed on time.

There are several important components to evaluation for the class:

1. Attendance
2. Turning in assignments promptly. There is no good way to catch up, therefore, completion of daily assignments is essential. Be prepared with your questions about each assignment.

Portfolio--all assignments will be corrected and saved in a portfolio. The portfolio will be submitted at the end of each unit. You should correct errors and learn from them. Put the graded assignment and your corrected version in the portfolio together.
3. Accuracy in completion of transcription homework
4. Demonstrated understanding and application of theoretical readings through class participation and assignments.
5. Final project, such as a fully edited scholarly or performing edition, a theoretical paper that includes analysis and transcription, or other project agreed upon by the student and the professor.
6. Final comprehensive assignment: Facsimiles representing each unit to transcribe. Due Tuesday, April 29, 12:00 p.m. in my mailbox.

Distribution of credit will be as follows:
1. Attendance and active, meaningful class participation: 20%
2. Daily homework: 25%
3. Portfolio: 25%
4. Final project: 15%
5. Final assignment: 15%

GRADING SCALE:
94-100% = A; 91-93% = A-; 87-90% = B+; 84-86% = B; 81-83% = B-; 77-80% = C+; 74-76% = C;
71-73% = C-; 67-70% = D+; 64-66% = D; 61-63% = D-; 60 and below = E.

UNITS OF STUDY:
Weeks 1-3
I. Plainchant notation: the beginning of notated sound in western musical culture

Weeks 4-6
II. Modal notation: the beginning of notated polyphony with rhythm in western musical culture

Weeks 7-16

ACADEMIC HONESTY: No academic dishonesty will be tolerated. Plagiarism is presenting the work of another as your own. Offenders will be subject to procedures and penalties as stated in the university bulletin and student handbook. Strictly enforced!

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES are strongly encouraged to use the resources offered by the University of Florida Dean of Students Office to assist anyone who qualifies. To learn more, see http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drp/as.htm or visit the office: Disability Resources Program, P202 Peabody Hall, Email: accessuf@dso.ufl.edu, 352-392-1261, Fax:352-392-5566, TDD:352-392-3008
Students who need extra help with writing should make use of the campus writing center. Students who use the writing center must submit all drafts of the paper, including the suggestions and revisions from the center. Information about the center is available at http://www.at.ufl.edu/r&w/. If you are asked to use the writing center, you will be expected to do so and to submit all drafts of the paper.

ATTENDANCE: Attendance is required and essential for your success in the class. See evaluation criteria.

CLASSROOM POLICIES: Class begins promptly; come prepared, come on time, stay the whole time.
